MEXICAN REVOLT

LATEST TROUBLE ENGINEERED TO CAUSE HALT IN COM-MISSIONERS' WORK.

STARTING SIGNAL FROM N. Y.

Certain Citizens Seek to Compel Intervention-Villa Had Nothing to Do With Chihuahua Uprising, Says Agent.

New York City.-Americans seeking to compel intervention in Mexico by the United States planned and directed the raid on Chihuahua City and then "planted" exaggerated stories to make it appear a great triumph for Villa, according to information before members of the American and Mexican joint commission which left New London for Atlantic City.

United States secret service agents are investigating what is regarded as a conspiracy led by Americans, first to bring about the Chihushua City incident, and, second, to get it exaggerated in the official military papers, with the object of destroying the work of the American and Mexican joint commission.

The reports which have been transmitted by Washington and by Mexico City to the joint commission contradict the statements in the account by Brig. Gen. George Bell, Jr. It is regarded as established by the state department that Villa was not with the raid on Chihuahua City and that no ammunition was captured and taken off by the raiders.

The American investigators of the attack on Chihuahua City are supposed to be either political enemies of the Wilson administration, or Americans interested in Mexican property and anxious to avert a settlement between the United States and Mexico which would put intervention out of the question. The suspicion rests on a set of concrete facts received close attention from the state department and the department of justice.

The signal for the raid on Chihuahua City, it is believed, came in a telegram from New York City, or Washington, to the border, and was forwarded by courier to the bandit organization outside of the city.

The raid was timed to occur just as the commissioners appeared to be on the threshold of an agreement for the substitution of a strong pairol on both sides of the border for the Pershing expedition.

WIFE AND HOME ARE BURNED

Man Held Charged With Terrible Crime - Believed to Have Murdered Mate.

Mountain View, N. H.-Fred L. Small, formerly of Boston, Mass., was arrested in connection with the murder of his wife and setting their summer residence here on fire.

The house, which is situated on the shores of Ossibee Lake, was destroyed by fire. The body of Mrs. Small was with a rope tied around the neck. It is believed she was strangled and burned alive with the house. Several years ago Small, after securing a divorce from his first wife, brought suit for $100,000 against A H. Soden, who was then president of the Boston National League baseball club, charging alienation of his wife's affections. The suit was settled in court for $15,000, and at that time the presiding judge took occasion to tell Small he "believed he (Small) was the man to take advantages of and profit by his wife's misdeeds."

THIRD SIMILAR CATASTROPHE

More Than 90 Passengers on Car at Time-Identification of Some Impossible as They Were Ground by Train, Detroit, Mich.-Fourteen persons were killed and more than 25 injured several probably fatally, Sunday night when a switch engine hauling two freight cars crashed into a crowded street car at Forest avenue and Deqinder street on the east side. There were more than 90 persons in the street car, man of them returning from the theaters.

Killed Under Freight Cars. The street car was struck almost in the center, the impact pushing it from the tracks and sliding it alongside the freight cars.

Panic-stricken passengers began jumping from both the front and rear doors and climbing through windows. Most of the dead were killed by jumping from the car and falling under the wheels of the still moving freight Ambulances from every hospital in Detroit were rushed to the scene. One hospital alone reported 15 injured and one dead had been taken there.

This accident was the third of a similar nature here in the last year and the second to occur at the Forest avenue crossing. The railroad tracks at Dequinder street are used by the Grand Trunk and Detroit Terminal Railroad companies.

The death of a little girl, who succumbed to her injuries while being taken to a hospital, brought the list of dead to 14. At the same hospital one man was reported to be dying, The president is feeling fit, appears while three others, unidentified, were unconscious and the extent of their The man on the street, the presiinjuries undetermined.

SUPREME BODY SETS ASIDE RUL-ING OF SECRETARY OF STATE ROACH.

PEOPLE HAVE RIGHT TO VOTE

Gardner Land Bank Proposition and Blind Amendment Also to Be Submitted to Missouri Voters in November.

Jefferson City.

By a vote of 4 to 2 the supreme court in bane awarded a peremptory writ of mandamus to compel Secretary of State Roach to place the prohibition' amendment submitted under the initiative and referendum upon the official ballot for the general election November 7.

Chief Justice A. M. Woodson and Judge W. W. Graves dissented from this ruling, while it was concurred in by Judges Henry W. Bond, R. F. Walker, Charles P. Faris and James P. Blair. Judge Charles G. Revelle did not sit in the case, being absent on vacation.

Written opinions, both ruling and dissenting, will be filed later on, it was announced.

September 2, Secretary Roach refused to place the proposed amendment on the ballot on the ground that it is violative of the federal constitution in that it seeks to regulate inerstate traffic.

Charles E. Stokes and H. P. Farris of Clinton, Henry county, heads of the organizations that had secured the submission petitions bearing 25,000 names, contested the position taken by him and brought the mandamus through John H. Lucas of Kansas

The case was argued by Lucas and L. A. Laughlin of Kansas City, for the Prchibitionists and Attorney General Barber and Morton Jourdon of St. Louis for the secretary of state.

The amendment will be placed on the ballot by Secretary Roach and with the other two, the Gardner land bank amendment and the one for pensions for the blind was certified out to the county clerks. It will be No. 3 on the constitutional amendment ballot in the November election.

When the state voted on prohibition in 1910 the form of the amendment was very much different from the one that has just won a place on the balflot by litigation.

The 1910 amendment simply pro hibited the sale and manufacture of intexicating Houor in Missouri. The vote for the amendment was 207,281 for and 425,406 against, or a majority adverse to the proposition of 218,125

University Student Held.

Harry Weeks of Eldon, a sopho more, was arrested at the University of Missouri on a charge of attempted hazing. It was the first charge made since the abolishment of the practice this year.

Boosting Good Roads.

Col. F. W. Buffum hopes for especially good work on the southern highway from St. Louis to Kansas City, but the others were not to be neglected.

penitentiary.

Lieut, Joseph L. King, United States army officer, detailed as commandant at the University of Missouri, has enrolled as a student in the school of law of the university.

Lieut. King is enthusiastic about the university. "This is a great bunch of fellows you have here," he said. "They are so well set up that if they were all in uniform I would think that I was at an army post."

There is considerable bitterness developing in the state campaign over the land bank question.

Reew Prison Insurance. The reinsurance of a large number of canceled fire risks has in a measure restored confidence among the contractors and others at the Missouri Additional precautions have been taken under the advice of a fire insurance engineer, and a thoroughly drilled body of guards is on duty in all of the buildings both day and night. A proposition to relieve Warden McClung of disciplinary duty was made to the governor but rejected without consideration .

Prison reform has been promised in statements made by both candidates for governor. Judge Henry Lamm, the Republican nominee, and Col. Fred Gardner, the Democratic candidate, have promised the people of Missouri that if elected they would call a conference before the legislature meets to consider the prison needs. This to be followed by specific recommendations.

Col. Gardner promised his "council" would non-partisan in personnel. Both pronounce conditions bad.

Warden Charged With Cruelty.

For the first time in the history of the Missouri penitentiary, an application has been filed with the supreme court for an inquiry into the punishment that is being administered to a convict, James Underwood of Kansas City, who is accused of having set fire to a prison oilhouse, Sept. 16. He was put in the rings soon after the

The petition was filed with the clerk by R. S. Brennan, a Kansas City attorney. Underwood was convicted in Kansas City, Nov. 26, 1913, of murder in the second degree, and sentenced for 20 years. The legality of his conviction and sentence is not questioned.

It is contended by Brennan that the punishment being meted out to Underwood is so harsh, cruel and barbarous as to invoke the protection for him of Section 25, Article 2 of the Constitution, which prohibits unusual and inhuman punishment.

It is also contended that the treatment being accorded him is equivalent to a death sentence, since he is already the victim of an incurable dis-

Bakery Statistics.

The increase in the price of bread and other similar products brought on by the great demand for wheat and flour from the European countries involved in the present struggle for mastery, caused 1,055 bakeries of Missouri to turn out bread, pies, cakes and confections to the value of approvimately $20,000,000 during the fiscal year which closed June 30, 1916, breaking all previous records of the state in this respect. These figures are from a bulletin of the bureau of labor statistics.

The 1,055 bakeries gave employment during the fiscal year 1915-1916, to 5,379 men and boys, women and girls, they drawing $2.890,009 for their labors. When the disbursements for materials and supplies and what was paid out for wages are added together, representing the sum of $13,-082,000, and this amount is subtracted from the total receipts for all bakery products placed on the market, it leaves less than $7,000,000 left for the profits of the owners of these establishments. It is therefore safe to say that few Missouri bakers are on Uncle Sam's list for an annual income tax,

The strides this industry has made for the state in a decade is revealed by the fact that in 1904 641 bakeries turned out products worth $12,672,000. In 1909 954 bakeries had an output which sold for $18,524,000, and in 1914 1,043 bakeries placed on the market bread, pies and cakes worth $19,-940,000.

Asks Explosives Rule.

The association of general mana gers of all the railroads in the state asked the state public service commission for authority to put into effect the rules of the interstate commerca commission affecting the shipment of explosives and inflammable materials of all kinds. These rules differ very much from the state rules governing such shipments. The state rate on explosives is about 1 cent per 100 pounds, while the interstate rafe ranges from 10 cents per 100 pounds as high as $1.20.

Won't Put Name on Ticket.

Secretary of State Roach wrote W. that the name of Joseph P. Fronton would not be immediately placed on the ballot as the Urohibition nominee for governor. Roach says in his letter that Fontron is already a nominee on the Progressive ticket.

Seeks Terminal Connections.

The St. Louis Electric Railway Company, the Missouri part of the McKinley interurban systems of Illinois and Indiana, applied to the state public service commission for an order under which it can connect with the St. Louis Terminal Railroad.

Assistant Fired.

The lack of cordial relations existing between Warden D. C. McClung and Deputy Warden Porter R. Gilvin of the penitentlary has again been brought to public attention by the dismissal of Capt. John Bruner from the penitentiary force. Capt. Bruner was one of the oldest and most efficient officers connected with that institution. It was a surprise when he reported the interview he had with the warden which resulted in his discharge.

Recent escapes are said to be assigned as the cause.

Navigation Suspended.

Word comes to the capital that at various points along the Missouri River the water is so shallow that anything like navigation has been suspended. The engineers deepening the channel have been off on a summer vacation and when they return work will be resumed in earnest.

First Regiment Home.

After an absence of 97 days on the Mexican border the boys of the First Missouri are at home again; and following a parade through the streets of St. Louis, marched to the armory where the "stacked arms." The soldiers were accorded a demonstrative welcome, thousands lining the streets and cheering as they past. Members of the regiment were not allowed to greet their friends until after they had checked in their property. The same scenes prevailed at other points when the boys "came home." Civil Service Examinations.

Missouri men and boys who aspire to enter government service are to be given the opportunity next month Many jobs are to be filled and examinations will be held for a few of them at the old customhouse, Third and Olive streets, St. Louis. Some of the positions follow: Lumber inspector $2,500 a year, October 24; assistant in market investigations, $1,800 to $3,000 a year, October 24; stenographer and typewriter (male), $900 to $1,000 a year, November 10; gardener, $720 a year, October 17.
